

Local Health Departments and Medical Reserve Corps Join to Educate Communities on Emergency Preparedness

Are you certain that your family knows how to prepare for a disaster and has sufficient emergency supplies in the home? You should be! To help you address this top priority, local Health Departments and the Upper Merrimack Valley Medical Reserve Corps are providing educational sessions on emergency preparedness – and purchasing supplies in bulk – for local residents to build their own 72-Hour Emergency Kits.

Call to reserve your space in one of these events! Learn what you can do to prepare your home in case of a disaster, and assemble your kit with previously purchased materials. Take advantage of discounted pricing obtained through bulk purchasing, and avoid the hassle of running around to gather needed supplies. One-stop shopping! Your $50 pre-payment will cover a backpack, emergency disaster guide, crank flashlight and radio, tarp, tent, and various first aid and emergency supplies. (Kits that many families purchased at last year's events proved useful during the unexpected ice storm in December.)

Call by February 20, 2009 to register for one of these events and order your kit:
